SUMMONS FROM THE CHIEFPOWDERLY CALLS ON CHICAGO KNIGHTS OF LABOR TO EXPLAIN.

The Windy City Fellows Give More Trouble Than All the Rest of the Country—Messenger Boys Air Their Grievances—Various Other Labor Troubles.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—General Master Workman Powderly has about arrived at the conclusion that some of the Chicago assemblies of the Knights of Labor are giving him more work, trouble and anxiety than all the rest of the order in the country combined, and General Organizer Richard Griffiths, who is the local representative of the general executive board, will be in Philadelphia in a few days, in response to a peremptory summons from his chief, for the purpose of explaining, if he can, why the Chicago brethren are kicking up so much fuss, and also to give his advice concerning the methods which should be adopted to compel obedience and respect to the constitution of the order and its general officers.

Scarcely a fortnight now goes by but the general master workman finds it necessary to issue some peremptory mandate or ultimatum to one or the other of the Chicago assemblies. The latest is his order that hereafter no general boycotts shall be authorized by the district assemblies, and this has created a good deal of angry comment. Under the constitution of the order a district assembly has a right to order a boycott within its jurisdiction, but such a boycott cannot extend into other districts without the sanction of the general executive board in Philadelphia. Certain district assemblies hereabouts, however, have made a law unto themselves, and usurped the power and authority of the supreme body, by ordering boycotts here, there and everywhere at their own sweet will.

This is why Powderly is mad, and he is said to have reached the conclusion that either discipline shall be maintained or the usurping assemblies be thrown bodily out of the order. The latter step would have been taken some time ago had it not been for a fear that the assemblies concerned might form a strong nucleus for a federation of unions. The order regarding boycotts, if carried out, will practically squelch the crusade against Armour's meats, and against certain manufacturers who have fallen under the ban, and hence there has been, so far, no indication of a willingness to comply with its text.

Affairs in New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Assaults by desperate strikers become more and more numerous every day. Three aggravated cases were reported this morning. Early in the morning a half dozen strikers caught Maurice Mark, who is supposed to be a non-union man, and beat and pounded him so severely as to dislocate his left shoulder, leaving him for dead in the gutter. He was found by the police and taken to the St. Vincent hospital, where the doctors say his condition is critical. Thomas Muller, twenty-one years old, was the other victim. He was attacked while going to his work on the National Line pier, by a gang of strikers who knocked him down and were beating him on the head with stones when the police appeared. Muller was taken to the St. Vincent hospital. None of the strikers were arrested.

Henry Chapel, a non-union man and captain of a coal boat, furnished the third case. Three Irish laborers this morning burst suddenly into Chapel's cabin and began to hammer him with clubs. The uproar brought out other men from boats alongside and the strikers fled. The police refused to say anything about this outrage.

Fully three-fourths of the striking longshoremen are now re-employed. Where employed alongside of non-union laborers they use every effort to bully and frighten such workmen away. The freight handlers on lower West street have met with poor success in getting back. None of the former New York Central, Erie, Lackawanna or Pennsylvania men will be re-employed, all some of them are reported in severe straits for the necessities of life.

Messenger Boys Indignant.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The 1,500 messenger boys employed by the American District Telegraph company are indignant at their manager, W. F. Sanford, because of a circular he sent yesterday to their various homes. It was addressed: "Dear Parents and Guardians," and said: "We send notice that you are well informed from reliable sources that your son is in danger of falling into the hands of agents who are trying to blind together the honest working boys of this city, and lead them to commit acts against the laws of peace, good order and honest industry. We also beg to ask you to be on the watch, and advise him to keep out of bad company, and continue in the esteem of his employer as a good law-abiding servant of the company."

The circular is aimed at a Knight of Labor association that the boys have been endeavoring to organize in the various district offices for some time past. Some of the boys were interviewed, and one said: "We have organized ourselves because we can't get our grievances righted any other way. We have petitioned without avail. We want to have ten hours work a day, and pay at the uniform rate of two cents a message." As for keeping bad company, the boys say their business compels them to go into all sorts of respectable places with messages under penalty of dismissal if they refuse.

The Influence of Monopoly.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 17.—The Knights of Labor assembly of this city and of Pendley have presented to the joint assembly resolutions denouncing the influence of monopoly and the effort to "elect the arch-monopolist of the state," Johnson N. Camden, senator, against what is declared to be the expressed voice of the people. The knights view with alarm the building up of an aristocracy of riches and a house of lords in the United States senate. Thanks are extended to those members of the legislature who are opposing the re-election of Mr. Camden, and they are urged to stand out to the end. The assembly at noon gave Mr. Camden 38; Mr. Maxwell 23; Mr. Lucas 9, with five scattering, but on the second ballot Mr. Camden lost one vote, Mr. Reynolds, of Mercer county, who cast his vote for Judge D. E.

Johnson. The opposition to Mr. Camden appears to be growing, and the longer the deadlock continues the less his chances for re-election seem. The "re-electants" have not settled on a candidate, but compliment different ones.

Returning to First Principles.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—A large number of Knights of Labor gathered last night at No. 104 East Randolph street, to participate in the ceremony of reorganizing Local Assembly No. 400. It was a revival of the pioneer assembly of the order in the west. It was organized in 1877 by Richard Griffiths, now general worthy foreman of the order.

The assembly grew so large eventually that a number of other assemblies were founded in different parts of the city, and as these and others grew, No. 400 was gradually deserted by its members for assemblies whose headquarters were more conveniently located. The charter was always held here, however. An old member referring to the reorganization, said: "There are knights who have become tired of the extremists. The young and radical are crowding out the conservatives from the assemblies. They will all find a friendly refuge in old 400. We want to conduct 400 on strictly Knights of Labor principles. No Socialism, no politics, no personal quarrels will enter our assembly."

United Labor Party in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—The mass meeting of the United Labor party drew an audience of over 2,000 in West Twelfth street Turner hall last night. Resolutions from the Central Labor union were adopted with a hurrah. They declare that labor can hope for no relief from either the Republican or Democratic party, denounce those parties as hopelessly corrupt, maintain that trades' unions must unite for independent political action if workingmen hope to better their condition and enforce respect for their demands. Two speakers denounced Mayor Harrison as the enemy of the workingmen, and charged him with laying wires to capture the labor vote.

SHOT HIS SISTER.

A Tragedy at Delaware Last Thursday Just Brought to the Surface.

DELAWARE, O., Feb. 17.—The most shocking tragedy that has taken place in Delaware county for a long time, has come to light in this city, though it occurred last Thursday evening, when Angeline Oliver, a handsome young lady, nineteen years of age, was accidentally killed by her own brother, George, aged seventeen years. The circumstances were as follows: The young people, who have always been devoted brother and sister, were orphans, and resided with their grandfather, Benjamin F. Conn, a well known farmer of Kingston township, ten miles east of this city.

On Thursday evening Miss Oliver was seated at the dining room table writing. Opposite her sat her brother, who was handling a revolver. All the chambers of the weapon were empty but one. As the boy thoughtlessly raised and lowered the hammer the cylinder revolved until the cartridge came under the descending hammer. There was a loud report, a sharp scream and the girl fell forward mortally wounded. The ball took effect in the left side, near the heart, and the victim died in half an hour. Her death caused deep grief in the neighborhood, and the brother is almost crazed in consequence of the affair. The young lady was buried on Sunday. Strangely enough, there was no notice sent to the coroner, and no manner of legal investigation made. While there is probably no doubt but that the killing was accidental, there is a prevailing idea that it should have been examined into, and the coroner may yet take official notice of the matter.

CHICAGO INUNDATED.

A Little Water Goes a Long Way Toward Making Trouble.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—When the snow melted so rapidly last week the water from towns along the Illinois Central railroad, following the natural slope of the country, flowed eastward and lodged in the district bounded by Grand Crossing, Coney Island, Pullman and South Chicago, completely inundating the most of that region, and transforming it into a vast lake. In South Chicago a disastrous flood exists, and not a little suffering has been occasioned. A large portion of the town lying west of the Baltimore & Ohio and north of the Pittsburg & Fort Wayne tracks is under water, and seems likely to remain so for some time to come.

Commercial avenue, which is the principal thoroughfare running north and south, is flooded in several places, and the basements of all the houses on both sides of the street are flooded. At the junction of Commercial avenue and Eighty-eighth street all of the crossings are inundated, and temporary bridges have been erected to accommodate pedestrians, and on several other streets much the same conditions of affairs exists. West of Exchange avenue, and near the northern limit or the town, is what is known as the Polish settlement. It is there that the worst trouble exists. All of the houses are flooded, and the suffering is quite severe. Grand Crossing has suffered considerably from the flood.

In Honor of Miss Blaine.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Miss Margaret Blaine, daughter of the ex-secretary of state and ex-senator, will to-night be the shining star of a dancing party given in her honor by Miss Josephine Medill, daughter of the veteran editor of the Tribune. Several hundred cards have been issued to the elite of the city, and the ball room of the Medill mansion has been elegantly decorated for the occasion. It is understood that Mr. Blaine is coming West in a few weeks and will be guest of Mr. Medill for several days. A number of parties and entertainments in his honor are already spoken of.

They Ate Something That Made Them Sick.

HOLYOKE, Mass., Feb. 17.—Forty boarders at Mrs. Child's boarding house were made quite ill yesterday by something which they ate. It is supposed that some meal used in making brown bread was sour. The matter, which causes much talk, is being investigated.

Patil in Denver, Colorado.

DENVER, Col., Feb. 17.—Patil's appearance at Music Hall last night attracted an audience of 2,000 persons. The receipts were over $11,000. The company leave for Kansas City to-morrow.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.AN ELABORATE ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF AN INCREASE IN ALLOTMENTS.

The Seven States and Two Territories That Furnish the Bulk of All the Internal and Foreign Commerce of the Country Unproved For in the Bill—Notes.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Col. P. B. Walker, of Minnesota, to-day presented to the senate committee on commerce an elaborate argument in favor of an increase of the allotments of the river and harbor bill, as formulated by the house committee to the Upper Mississippi and Missouri rivers.

His argument was that these two galleys comprising seven states and two territories containing a population of 17,000,000, and predicting nearly 1,800,000 bushels of grain, 40,000,000 pounds of wool, 18,000,000 head of cattle, 28,000,000 hogs, nearly 39,000,000 dollars' worth of silver and gold, and over 2,000,000 tons of Bessemer iron ore, and a grand total of nearly 13,000,000,000 dollars' per annum, furnishing the bulk of all the internal and foreign commerce of the country in bread stuffs and meats, all of which were produced in these two valleys, were practically left out of the river and harbor bill.

Minnesota and Dakota produce nearly 75,000,000 bushels of hard spring wheat. Their competitors are Russia, Northern Asia and British America. None of the states produce this grain. All of this product finds its way to the eastern states or foreign markets over long and circuitous rail routes so that the production becomes unprofitable and expensive to the consumer for want of cheaper methods of transportation. This could only be secured by furnishing adequate improved water-ways over which to send these products to the markets of the world.

He asked the committee to double the amount of the allowances for the improvements of the Lake Superior harbors and the outlets. That $25,000 allowed to the Mississippi above Des Moines, be doubled and that the pittance set by the house for the upper Mississippi river be tripled. It is doubtful whether the house would agree to these amendments, but the argument has made an impression on the senate committee, which it is hoped will result in allowing the west a reasonable share in the river and harbor allowances.

Agreeing On An Order of Business.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Caucuses were held by both the Republican and Democratic senators this morning for the purpose of agreeing upon an order of business. The list of measures determined upon by the Republicans for consideration was laid before the Democratic senators for suggestions. There was considerable discussion in both caucuses upon the proposed alterations of the order. Senator Sherman was instructed to act with the chairman of the Democratic caucus and reach a mutual agreement from day to day as to what shall be the business order. Senator Harris was chosen by the Democrats as their conference, and it is probable that he and Mr. Sherman will have their first conference to-morrow morning.

Appropriation for Liberty's Light.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Though representations made by Congressman Nicholas Muller, of New York, the house committee on appropriations has agreed to appropriate $32,500 for lighting the Bartholdi Statue, New York harbor.

A Counterfeit Gold Piece.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 17.—The mint officials have secured a counterfeit two dollar and a half gold piece of 1853, for which they have been looking for years. The piece is so good a counterfeit that a Philadelphia bank pronounced it genuine, and an acid test subsequently made failed to show anything wrong. The mint officials say it contains only twenty-seven cents worth of gold, yet its weight is that of the real article to a hair; its size is exactly the same, and it has the ring of pure metal. In the middle, however, counterfeit is not as thin as the genuine coin, and the style head of liberty is somewhat different. The counterfeit will be placed in the mint's collection.

O'Leary Wants to Fight Some One.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 17.—Fitz O'Leary has deposited $100 forfeit with the Commercial, to support a challenge to fight Tommy Warren, or "Spider" Weir, of Boston, to a finish, for from $800 to $100 a side, at 115 pounds the fight to take place near Louisville. Ned Morrill, Warren's ex-trainer, said that Warren's offer to fight Weir or any one else, at 115 pounds is a practical backdown, as Warren could not get down to that weight. He said it was not easy to bring him down to 115 pounds to fight Barnes a year ago, and almost impossible to get him to that weight when he fought O'Leary four months ago.

Big Ice Gorge.

STERLING, Ill., Feb. 17.—The river at this point is higher than for twenty years, and everything is at a standstill, the mills and factories all being closed. The ice has gorged for miles and grave fears are entertained. At least twenty families have been driven from their homes without being able to move any household goods. Judging from present appearances the worst has not come. The Larchwood breeding farm in entirely submerged.

Terrile Boiler Explosion.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Feb. 17.—Yesterday at a single mill nine miles south of Cabool, the boiler exploded with terrific force, and pieces of it were hurled a distance of 100 yards. Thomas Smallwood, aged seventy years, was killed outright. His son George and two men named Grange were fatally injured.

Let Loose at Midnight.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 17.—A special from Clark county says: The boiler in the saw mill of James Britt at Okolona exploded Monday night at 12 o'clock. Engineer Ray, sleeping in the mill, was blown thirty feet and instantly killed. His body was shockingly mangled. The mill was wrecked.

Shot Himself on His Wife's Grave.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 17.—Frederick Winkelman, aged sixty years, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head on his wife's grave in Mount Hope cemetery, yesterday. A note in the pocket said: "Take me to the dead house." A half smoked cigar and a revolver were beside the body.

BOOKS DON'T BALANCE.An Allentown, Pennsylvania, Bookkeeper

$25,000 Short in His Accounts.

ALLENSTOWN, Pa., Feb. 17.—W. L. C. Grossman walked into this town jailhouse seventeen years ago. He was a fine musician and possessed agreeable manners. He secured a situation with Johnston & Swartz, wholesale grocers, and remained in the employ of this firm until January last. He seemed to be prospering finely, and besides owning two or three fast horses, engaged extensively in the furniture business, and his factory is the largest in the city. The firm's suspicions that something was wrong were aroused about a year ago, but he gave such plausible reasons for apparent discrepancies that a thorough investigation of his accounts was not made until a new bookkeeper succeeded him. One false entry after another was then revealed and the amount of his embezzlement was estimated at $26,000.

When a warrant was issued for Grossman's arrest, he confessed his guilt, but said that the amount of his defalcation was less than $4,000. He, however, confessed judgment for $6,000. The firm continued its investigation until yesterday, and it is now believed the deficiency will aggregate almost $25,000. Grossman confessed judgment for this amount, and thus the matter rests at present. His furniture factory is valued at $50,000, and he promises to make good the whole amount of his "shortage" if time is allowed him. The embezzlements cover seven or eight years. The smallest amount taken was $50, and the largest $300. Grossman has stood high in business circles.

A BOGUS TALMAGE SERMON.

Dr. Talmage Pronounces as 'Fraudulent the Sermon "Frauds Detected."

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—A bogus sermon, purporting to have been delivered by Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, in Brooklyn Tabernacle, last Sunday, has been printed in a large number of newspapers throughout the country. It is believed that the copy for the fraudulent sermon was furnished by the A. N. Kellogg Newspaper company, of Chicago, and the National Press company, of New York, which latter is a branch of the Kellogg company. Dr. Talmage furnishes the following card for the press:

A CARD FROM DR. TALMAGE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16, 1887. An outrageous fraud is being enacted. There is a sermon going the rounds with my name attached to it entitled, "Frauds Detected," and on the text, Numbers, xxxii, 23—"But if ye will do so, behold ye have sinned against the Lord: and be sure your sin will find you out." I never preached a word of that sermon. I never preached from that text. The whole thing is a base deception. T. DE WITT TALMAGE.

AFFECTING SCENE.

An Indiana Farmer Finds His Lost Daughter After Ten Years' Search.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 17.—An affecting scene occurred in the parlor of Peter Roessner's residence, yesterday, when an old gentleman of fee appearance, entered and rushed forward to meet a young woman about seventeen years of age. The affair was a happy one, being the reunion of a father and daughter after a separation of ten years. The gentleman was Mr. Daniel Chisman, a wealthy farmer living near Carmi, Ill., and the young woman was his daughter, Annie, who was stolen from home ten years ago.

Detectives were employed and thousands of dollars spent to recover the child, but all efforts proved vain, until recently, when it was learned that the abductors, tiring of their charge, had placed the child in an orphan asylum, from where she was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Roessner.

Lynchers Arrested.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Feb. 17.—Jack Hoge, High Butler, John Miller, John Means, Cal Turner, Bud McKenzie, and Lewis Brewer were brought in from the Chickasaw country yesterday, charged with luring two men named Williams and Morgan, and a boy named Moon, on the 15th of June, 1885, near Healdton. The two men were in custody on a charge of horse stealing, and the boy happened along when the lynching was in progress, and the lynching party hung him also, to keep him from becoming a witness. All are men of prominence, High Butler and Cal Turner being citizens of Green county, Texas. They gave bonds in the sum of $25,000, and their case will likely receive the attention of the grand jury.

A Duel Without Seconds.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 17.—Adairville Ky., was thrown into a fever of excitement yesterday through the killing of Fayette Toughler by Bob Gorham. Toughler was quiet and gentlemanly when sober, but was a perfect desperado when under the influence of liquor. He was in town, and was drinking, and it is said threatened to kill Gorham before he left town. The two met on the square at 3 p. m. Gorham with a shotgun, and Toughler with a pistol. Who fired first is not positively known, but Gorham fired five shots and Toughler one, the shots of Gorham taking effect in the hand and breast of Toughler, and one shot passing through the heart. No inquest was held.

An Editor's Misfortune.

GALVESTON, Tex., Feb. 17.—A Laredo special says that Maj. J. S. Penn, proprietor of the Laredo Times, has been adjudged violently insane. His misfortune is due to the lingering or frets of an attack of Rio Grande fever two years ago, aggravated by the excitement of a contest for a seat in the legislature. He is a brother-in-law of ex-Governor Ireland.

All Identified But Two.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., Feb. 17.—Agnes Rogers' body was identified yesterday. The only two bodies remaining unidentified are probably those of Peter Melane, of Acton, Quebec, and D. Marquet. Mrs. Nutting, of Madison Bridge, Me., is here looking for her brother, who she thinks was on the train. H. G. Wilcox was worse yesterday.

Vacancy Filled on the Supreme Bench.

HAIRTSFORD, Conn., Feb. 17.—Governor Lounsbury appointed Judge Bardsley, of Bridgeport, to fill the place on the supreme bench caused by the resignation of Judge Granger, which takes effect March 1.

A Fancy Candy Victim.

BRAZIL, Ind., Feb. 17.—A bright little son of a Mr. Tomlinson, of St. Jacobs, Ill., died Saturday from eating freely of fancy candy, the symptoms indicating poisoning.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
(Proprietors.)

THURSDAY EVENING, FEB. 17, 1887.

MADISON COUNTY Democrats have instructed for Senator Harris for Governor.

The Flemingsburg Republican in its last hours applauded Cleveland for vetoing the Dependency Pension bill.

COLONEL W. O. Bradley has pocketed another delegation to the State convention. The Republicans of Todd County have instructed for him.

The Sheriff of Bracken County has refused to pay over $4,000 to the Treasurer of the Sinking Fund, because that official has failed to execute bond as required by law.

Prohibition seems to be on the up-grade down in Tennessee. The Legislature by a vote of 87 to 4 has submitted to a vote of the people a prohibition amendment to the State Constitution.

It begins to look rather warlike in Europe. The fact that France is concentrating 600,000 troops on the frontier would indicate that she does not intend to let Germany take her by surprise.

The Winchester Sun says the hearse in which the remains of President Lincoln were conveyed to their last resting place were among the contents of a stable destroyed at that place by a fire the other day.

The Government building at Frankfort will soon be completed. Part of it is already occupied by the Deputy Collector and Postmaster. The building was begun in 1883, and its total cost will amount to nearly $150,000.

SECRETARY MANNING retires from the Cabinet and accepts the presidency of the Western National Bank, of New York. There is not so much honor in his new position, but a great deal more money and not near the work and worry.

The Legislature of Kansas has granted women the right to vote in municipal elections, and the Governor has approved the bill. Just why the line is drawn at municipal elections is not stated. But the small favor will be thankfully received, no doubt.

The Knights of Labor have no love for Senator Camden, of West Virginia, and are determined to prevent his re-election. It is interesting to note, in this connection, that the Senator is not disturbed at the outlook. It will not be the first losing game for the Knights, if they fail in their efforts to defeat him.

BATH County never was in better financial fix than at present, and steps are being taken to secure the Frankfort, Georgetown and Paris Railroad. The proposed route takes in Sharpsburg, Owingsville and Salt Lick, thence through the rich iron, coal and timber fields of Eastern Kentucky to Prestonsburg, Floyd County.

It is whispered that the next time General Cassius Marcellus Clay "flops," he will land in the Labor party. He has been Democrat and Republican, then Democrat and Republican again, and the fact that George H. Thobe, the Labor man who is contesting Carlisle's seat in the next Congress, presided over Clay's meeting at Covington the other night is rather significant, and might indicate that the veteran "flopper" is making timely preparations to turn a political double-somersault in the not-far-distant future.

The political arena in this State presents a rather lively scene at present, but the indications are that it is not a circumstance now to what it will be before the next August election. We are not good at guessing, but will try our hand for once. Either Senator Harris or General Buckner will lead the Democratic hosts. The Republican cohorts will rally round the standard of the fiery and pugnacious Colonel William O. Bradley. Colonel Fontaine T. Fox, who wears the scars of the last campaign, will again summon the Prohibitionists to battle. John "Demosthenes" White will lead the Anti-saloon Republicans, and General "Cash" Clay will join the fray at the head of the Labor party. Gaze on the list. What a contest it would be, and what a famous victory for the Democratic party! But remember, this is only a guess.

Another Life Saved.

About two years ago, a prominent citizen of Chicago was told by his physicians that he must die. They said his system was so debilitated that there was nothing left to build on. He made up his mind to try a "new departure." He got some of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and took it according to directions. He began to improve at once. He kept up the treatment for some months, and is to-day a well man. He says the "Discovery" saved his life.

WHO CAN TELL?

We lost; yet couldst thou deem it best
If thou and I had never met?
Had never known the wild regret;
Our hearts been formed to soon forget;
Had never shed those scorching tears,
That dimmed our eyes, and aged our years,
And wrecked our souls' unknown rest?We lost; yet were it wise or well
If never we had known or cared?
If never our souls' wealth had been bared,
And all our weal and woe been spared?
If never our two souls had run
Their course care free, then blent as one?
Mayhap 'twere best. I cannot tell.We lost; yet all the grief and woe,
The blighted years of care and pain,
Hope that like hedge bound leaves have lain
Along my path, the strife so vain,
The bliss so distant as to seem
But as the fabric of a dream,
My soul deep treasures. That I know!

THE ARAB'S HORSE.

A YOUNG COLT TREATED AS A
MEMBER OF THE FAMILY.Tender Care Which Renders the Animal
Remarkably Docile—Methods of Training—One Bit of Business—Fed with Great Discrimination.

The majority of Arab horse owners prefer to keep mares—in their opinion "a mare that produces a mare is a fountain of riches;" in times of battle, mares can be easier kept quiet than horses and that to the dwellers in the desert, is another recommendation. Stallions indeed, are very rare; only the mightiest chiefs that can afford to keep one, as the stallion must have many servants to look after its welfare and see that it does not wander and become lost. When an Arab mare drops her foal mighty commotion is made, in the belief that the animal will never afterward be frightened at hearing a noise of any kind. Then, after the din has ceased, there falls to be enacted a little ceremony; the foal is transferred from the arm of the Arab who carried it in his arms during the disturbance, to the master of the tent, who placing the right dug on the mare in the mouth of the infant one, exclaims in a loud voice: "May Allah bless and preserve it and send us good fortune in abundance, with health to enjoy it!" All present join in making a suitable response, usually ending with: "Let us all bless Allah, who has sent to the family another child."

Great attention continues to be bestowed upon the foal during the first seven months of its life. It is not only taught to suck its mother, but is also taught how to drink the milk of the camel and the ewe, so that it may soon learn to do without its mother, which has to resume work as speedily as may be. In the event of barley ever becoming scarce or of the water supply running short the horse is able—having been well taught—to take "pot luck." When the foal has attained the age of about 225 days it is finally weaned and severed from the companionship of its mother, on which occasion some other little ceremonial of a simple kind is indulged in—the women of the tent assemble and demand the animal. "Give it unto us," they say, "it has now no other mother; it has become an orphan which we shall tend and feed and Allah will bless us." The foal is then given up and the women are as good as their word; they feed it with milk and dates, giving it also pieces of their bread. It is doubtless their tender treatment which renders the animal so docile—so docile that it can be easily handled by the merest child. Its education proceeds apace; each foal is, so to say, married to a child who rides him in search of grass or water. The child is fearless and the boy teaches the horse to fear no evil; the boy in time becomes a clever horseman, while the horse grows all that can be wished. The colt is left in charge of the child till it is 18 or 20 months old, when its "breaking in" is begun. The training of the colt is begun by his being shod with elags; and persons who have seen this mode of breaking think it is a really admirable system. The elag prevents the animal from entangling itself in the halter, or from getting into the manger, or from lying below it and from a multitude of bad habits which are incidental to other modes of training. Not till it is over 2 years old is the colt ever saddled or bridled, and then the utmost care is taken not to fatigue the animal; as a preliminary to the mounting of a full grown rider they are frequently led up and down with a pack saddle on their backs and a bit in their mouths which is covered with untressed wool. At length the man mounts the colt in order to complete its education. Before it has only been allowed to carry a child on its back, now it is made to feel the power of a master hand—the great object in view being to accustom the animal to ungrudging obedience. At first the colt gets only light work and is ridden without spurs and but little force is used. His owner canters him around among his belongings, using (as seldom as he possibly can) a light cane, just to remind his horse that he has a master; immense pains are taken not to tout or harass the animal, but to train him in the way he will have to go; he is always addressed in a gentle voice and no opposition is experienced.

One bit of business; it is deemed of the utmost importance he should be taught from the beginning of his training, and that is to stand stone still while his rider is dismounting and not to stir after he has dismounted. The value of such training was seen when an Arab rider was shot and fell from his horse—it stood still till it was remounted. The training of these animals is so complete that any person might ride one of them to market—pass the bridge over the horse's neck, let it fall to the ground, then placing a brick or stone upon it, go away on business, remain absent for an hour or two and come back in the certainty of finding his colt where he left it.

From their earliest years Arab horses are fed with much care and discrimination, their food being in accordance with their age, temperament and work. As has been stated, the Arab horse is taught to drink the milk of the camel and the ewe. A milk diet is greatly approved of, because owners of horses think that it is good for the health of the animal and strengthens without fattening it. Camels' milk is also said to be imbued with the power of imparting speed of limb to those who drink it, whether man or horse. Another point connected with the feed of a horse in the desert ought to be studied by trainers at home, that is, that the animal should be made to eat barley. "Had I not seen the mare produce the foal I should have said it was the barley," is an Arab saying. Another saying is: "When you purchase a horse feed him with barley till you know the measure of his stomach—a good horseman ought to know the measure of barley suited to his horse as exactly as the measure of powder suited to his gun."

I have now, perhaps, said enough to show the love of the Arab for his steed and the care that is taken to render the animal of value, and his value being assured, care for the horse is incalculable. "When you dismount, think of your horse before you think of yourself; it is he who has carried you and is to carry you again"—a most excellent sentiment which should be printed and pasted upon the back of every stable door. Another Arab saying about the horse which merits attention is "Run not your steed in the teeth of a strong wind if you desire to keep him in good health." One more sentiment should be kept in mind: "The grave of a horseman is always open; when, therefore, a man mounts his steed he ought say, In the name of Allah!"—Bailey's Monthly.

Gen. Logan's Washington House.

The general found his Stone house in a frightful state of decay. There was scarcely a whole window pane in it. Doors were broken into slivers and half the locks were gone. A few thousand dollars would have made it over into a palace; a few hundred have made a pretty good house of it. There are no glass partitions by Tiffany; no carved mahogany stair rails; nor are the ceilings and walls lacustrated-waltonised. Mrs. Logan took charge of beautifying the house. For weeks she frequented the second hand stores, and even within the last few weeks these places have heard her careful, discriminating inquiries. The house abounds in old fashioned Virginia and Maryland furniture. A $3 sofa is the best in his house. New Mexico, where Mrs. Maj. Tucker, the only daughter of the general and Mrs. Logan, has lived for several years, has given a good deal of the furnishings of Calumet place. In the hall hangs a big cowboy's hat, which is worth $3 an ounce and weighs three-fourths of a pound. Around it hang in festoons bead embroidered medicine bands, and crossed under it are two fine painted Indian bows. Navajo blankets of most gorgeous colors are as portieres. War relics are stowed around in all sorts of places. Swords and bayonets, cartridge boxes and knapsacks, haversacks and blankets hang in well designed groups in nearly every room. These are interesting and decorative, and it does not take a national bank to pay for them.—Washington Letter.

Elephants at Sea.

The holding into the air and lowering elephants into the hold of a ship is not only an unusual sight to most men but also a strange experience to most elephants. They were lashed with strong ropes, slung as far as practicable in slings, hoisted up with cranes and three-fold tackle and lowered into the steamer's hold like bales of cotton. When in the hold they were placed in pens built of strong teak timber balks, bolted to the ship's side to prevent them from breaking loose. The fear the animals suffered was the only pain they underwent, and by watching the eyes of the poor beasts their terror was very manifest. Tears trickled down their faces and they roared with dread, more especially when being lowered into the hold, the bottom of which was sanded for them to stand upon.

We are told that one timid female elephant actually fainted and was brought to with a fan and many gallons of water. At sea it appears that the animals got into a curious habit of occasionally—evidently at a preconcerted signal—settling to work rocking the ship from side to side by giving themselves simultaneously a swinging motion as they stood athwart the ship, the vessel rolling heavily as if in a seaway.—Youth's Companion.

Congressional Candidate Nominated. PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 17.—A Republican district convention was held in Bleakstone hall, this city, to nominate a candidate for the congressional vacancy caused by the unseating of Maj. Pierce, George Carmichael, Jr., of Charlestown, president and Samuel S. Stone and Christopher Rhodes were chosen secretaries. When nominations were called for Mr. Boriah H. Lawton nominated Maj. William A. Pierce, of Johnston. The nomination was nearly unanimous. A committee of three then waited on Maj. Pierce and presented him to the convention.

Toboggan Accident. HAYVERHILL, Mass., Feb. 17.—Three gentlemen and four ladies were overturned on the toboggan chute at Dustin Square, last night. The gentlemen escaped harm. Miss Alice Hall was severely cut in the face and forehead. Miss Edith Tuttle, of Lynn, had her ankle sprained and a blood vessel ruptured. Miss Nellie Webster was badly bruised on her body, and Mrs. Edith Whitcomb was bruised on the head. No bones were broken.

Indignant Pottawatomies. RED FORD, I. T., Feb. 17.—There is a bitter feeling existing among a large number of the band of Pottawatomies scattered over the territory and Kansas over the report that the department has allowed certain parties to take a portion of the money appropriated by the first session of the present congress to pay expenses in securing the money without any authority from any of the citizens. There is also being asked of congress authority to take an additional per cent. What congressmen got the money, the Indians, who never gave authority to anyone to take any part of their money, would like to know.

Collision on the Wabash. DECATUR, Ill., Feb. 17.—The Wabash had a costly rear-end collision yesterday morning at Sangamon Station, five miles east of this city, dismantling a locomotive, smashing and piling up in a heap twenty-five cars, and partly wrecking the depot building. The Toledo freight and accommodation train had arrived at the station and had stopped on the main track in the fog, when the fast Chicago freight came along, dashing into the stationary train. There were eight persons in the caboose, who barely saved their lives by jumping.

Philadelphia's City Election. PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 17.—The result of the total vote for municipal officers here yesterday were as follows: For Mayor—Fitter, Republican, 90,497; Keim, Democrat, 62,304; Phillips, Labor, 1,064. Fitter's plurality 28,193. For Receiver of Taxes—Clay, Republican, 79,427; Benton, Democrat, 91,647; Franks, Labor, 1,274. Clay's plurality 7,780. City Solicitor—Warwick, Republican, 95,693; Arundel, Democrat, 67,646; Keyser, Labor, 1,363. Warwick's plurality 33,347.

Wholesale Clothiers Fail. BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 17.—Brook & Weiner, large wholesale clothiers, have made an assignment. The liabilities are estimated at $300,000, of which $150,000 is preferred. The stock and other assets are expected to more than cover the liabilities. The cause of the failure was the accumulation of paper held for outside parties.

Thomas—Wells.

The merry wedding bells were set ringing this morning once more, this time to announce the nuptials of Mr. Lee Thomas and Miss Fannie Wells. The ceremony was solemnized at 10:30 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's parents, the pastor of the M. E. Church, South, of Flemingsburg, officiating. The wedding was a quiet one, only the relatives and a few immediate friends of the couple being present. The groom is well known as one of the enterprising and industrious young men of this county, being a successful farmer and trader of the Helena neighborhood. His bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wells, of that vicinity, and is a niece of Mr. Thomas Wells, of the First National Bank. The couple left on this afternoon's train to enjoy their honeymoon in the East. They expect to visit Newport News, Washington City, New York and other points of interest, and will be gone about three weeks. They carry with them the best wishes of all for a pleasant trip, a safe return, and a happy journey through life.

Fatal Fall at Mayslick.

The remains of William Guilfoile, Jr., were interred in the cemetery at Washington yesterday. Deceased was about fifteen years old at the time of his death, and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Guilfoile, who live near Mayslick. His death was the result of an accident which happened on the 11th instant. While at work with others in a tobacco barn, he fell from the second tier. His head struck on a stump, and the injuries he received were of such a serious nature as to result in his death after the lapse of several days.

Among the curiosities to be seen at the Public Library is a genuine Turkish dagger. It is the property of Gay Strode, and was secured by him during a recent visit to New York. It will be on exhibition at the library about two weeks.

The people of Maysville are promised a rare musical treat next Wednesday night, when the Mendelssohn Quintette Club, of Boston, will appear at the opera house. The New York Herald and other prominent journals speak well of the company. Admission, 25, 50 and 75 cents. Seats can be reserved at Taylor's.

The interest in the protracted meeting in the Christian Church is increasing with each service. All the pews were crowded last evening, and chairs had to be brought in to seat the large audience in attendance. Rev. E. L. Powell's sermon from the subject, "Remember," was an eloquent discourse, filled with encouragement for the Christian, and strong and earnest appeals to the "wanderer, the backslider and the sinner." When the invitation was extended, six went forward and united with the church, making nine to date. Services this evening at 7 o'clock, at the close of which the rite of baptism will be administered to several candidates.

We were much amused standing around the post-office on Valentine's day, watching the antics of the young men as they dropped in to get their valentines. Some would enter with a don't give 'em any air, and others would slip in trembling like a man with the flu-jams, and if lucky enough to get an envelope with a one cent stamp attachment, would slip it under his coat, whilst his face would take on all the colors of the rainbow, and then he would gently retire to some sequestered nook to breathe the fumes of vengeance, silent and deep, with a few cuss words thrown in, on the unlucky sender. But if it should happen to be a valentine from a girl, all over it and full of endearing words, then the case is different. Angel smiles wreath his face, and life begins to assume a happy appearance and his appetite grows smaller, which is a blessing these hard times.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR WAR

BISMARCK VIEWS THE MOVEMENTS OF FRANCE WITH ALARM.

Six Hundred Thousand Troops Along the French Frontier—The Pope Likely to Take Further Steps to Aid the Septennate—Other News From Europe.

BERLIN, Feb. 17.—The Post says that in reply to an inquiry by Deputy Eymann in the landtag as to whether war was probable, Prince Bismarck said: "You know quite as much as I do. We live in a state of peace. But look at the French preparations—at the building of barracks, at the position of Gen. Boulanger, at the constant outcry of the French Patriotic League during sixteen years and then consider what we have to fear."

The Post recommends Germans who desire to know the position of the French frontier to study the map prepared at Wurtemberg by Maj. Troltsch and published at Stuttgart, which shows that between Paris and the eastern frontier the troops of the line combined with the present reserves form an effective force of 600,000 men, which force can be tripled in a few days.

The Germania denies that Dr. Windthorst kept secret Cardinal Jacobini's letter. It asserts that the first letter was made known to the Centre leaders only through the press. The bishop of Strasburg has sent circulars to the clergy in his diocese, directing their attention to the vatican's instructions with reference to the septennate bill.

Bishop Kopp, of Fulda, authorizes the center committee of the Fulda circle to announce his continued support of Count Droske Vichering, who was deputy for Fulda in the last reichstag, and who voted against the septennate. Bishop Kopp declares against external interference with the elections.

The National Zeitung says that the Bundesrath at today's session discussed the question of declaring a minor state of siege at Stettin.

The question of the renewal of the commercial treaty with Austria-Hungary is among the business now being prepared for the next reichstag. The National Zeitung says that an entente cordiale is being arranged between the Federal governments regarding the treaty.

Prince Bismarck is expected to speak in the Landtag on the eve of the elections. The Bundesrath has approved the bill for the execution of the international treaty for the protection of submarine cables.

The Munich Nachrichten publishes a letter from a Catholic authority saying that direct orders from the pope caused the publication of the Jacobini letters, which are now being officially circulated among all the bishops, and that should the center maintain its opposition to the septennate a fresh and decisive step will be taken by the pope to prevent the positive vote of the center against the septennate.

The Politische Nachrichten denies that Crown Prince Frederick William has expressed any hope for a compromise on the military bill on the basis of the triennate.

The same paper denounces the attempts of Katkoff and the Pan Slavist party in Russia to depreciate the value of Russian securities in order to attain their own protectionist ideals, and affirms that Germany's relations with Russia have not changed since Bismarck made his recent speech in the reichstag.

Speaking in Berlin to-day, Professor Verchow said: "If militarism be the supreme law—the sovereign good to which we must sacrifice commerce, industry, everything—Germany has a bad future in store. War will not be averted by one state making always greater preparations than a neighboring state. On the contrary, these preparations must inevitably result in a collision. Our position, in the event of an external attack, is the strongest defensive position, and if a foreign state means to attack us it will certainly not be hindered by a difference of 41,000 men." Enthusiastic cheers greeted this remark.

German Patrols Along the Frontier. PARIS, Feb. 17.—The Journal des Debats has telegrams from Nancy saying that numerous German patrols have been stationed along the frontier, for the purpose, it is supposed, of arresting deserters, whose number has rapidly increased since war rumors have been in circulation. The dispatches also say that the French government has issued an order directing that, if any patrol should by accident enter France, only formal notice shall be taken of such violation of French territory, the matter to be subsequently made the subject of diplomatic protest.

The Same Old Story. DUBLIN, Feb. 17.—The people of Dingle, a seaport town in County Kerry, had a serious encounter with the police to-day while resisting evictions at that place. The residents learning of the approach of the evicting parties tore up the roads and built stone walls across them, at a number of points. Behind these they awaited the arrival of the evictors, whom they forced to retreat. On the police arriving at the scene they charged upon the tenants and beat them back with their batons and clubbed rifles. A number of men and women were injured.

The Queen's Jubilee. CALCUTTA, Feb. 17.—The fetes commemorative of the jubilee of Queen Victoria have begun in the principal cities throughout India. They will last three days. Thanksgiving services will be held in all the churches, temples and mosques.

Emperor William Recovering. BERLIN, Feb. 17.—The emperor's illness is not regarded by his physicians as serious. Germany has annexed Kyain and has also acquired portions of the East African coast in accordance with the terms of the Anglo-German convention.

Foreign Notes. At a meeting of sixty English members of parliament, held to-day, it was resolved to call the attention of parliament early next week to the outrageous packing of juries in Ireland by the Irish officials.

Earl Onslow has been appointed to succeed Lord Dunsen as under-secretary for the colonies. The offer of the position to Mr. A. J. Balfour was made conditional to Earl Onslow's refusal.

Byers, one of the emergency men, who was mortally wounded by a body of moonlighters yesterday at Ballyear, Ireland, died to-day. The news that Chinese troops had invaded Burma was conveyed in a letter to ex-King Thabaw from Tawbaw, who is visiting Mandalay. The Gazette and the Pioneer, both published in Bombay, also confirm the report.

Twenty-five thousand prisoners, held for various offences in India, were released to-day in commemoration of the queen's jubilee.
